War and Terrorism

The war and terrorism account represents a key line of business for Liberty. With the risk of a terrorist attack ever increasing across the globe, we continue to act as a market-leader writing a worldwide book of war and terrorism insurance cover.

Providing cover against terrorist attacks or political instability allows our clients to prosper in the current global climate. We write business into our Lloyd's syndicate (rated 'A+' Strong by Standard & Poor's) and through our global distribution network of Liberty offices, working with domestic and international brokers. We currently have specialist underwriters in Dubai, Singapore, Brazil and Colombia in addition to our London head office operation.

A wide variety of terrorism risks are written across a broad cross section of industries. The focus of the book is to underwrite high quality business in partnership with our clients.
